“OLD BUSKY HULDY”

Relic of the Revolution

Old Busky Huldy — The musket used by Sergeant John in the American Revolution and then given to his son John who in turn gave it to his nephew, Benjamin Arnold. In 1926 the musket was presented to the Trustees of the Hills Memorial Library by Otis Addison Merrill. Photo courtesy of Rodgers Memorial Library

Patrons and visitors to the Hills Memorial Library may remember the Musket from the American Revolution displayed over the large field stone fireplace at the rear of the main room of the library.

This musket was carried by Sergeant John Merrill of Nottingham West. John served in Captain Samuel Greeley’s Company at the time of the Lexington Alarm in April 1775; he became a Sergeant under James Ford in the Bennington Campaign August 1777. In 1926 Otis Addison Merrill presented this musket known as “Old Busky Huldy” to the Trustees of the Hills Memorial Library. This presentation was made by Otis in behalf of the descendants of Sergeant Merrill and Otis’ father, Benjamin.

John named his musket “Old Busky Huldy”. The reader may be curious as to what “Busky Huldy” may denote, as these terms are not in common usage; both words are largely obsolete. “Busky” would refer to “something of or related to the wood” and “Huldy” was a name that might be given to a baby girl. So, in the vernacular, “little girl of the wilderness”: his faithful musket!

I became curious about the relationship between Sergeant John, the carrier of the musket, Otis Addison, the donor, and Rev. Nathaniel Merrill, the first settled minister of Nottingham West.

Rev. Nathaniel Merrill and his wife Elizabeth (Sargent) had 12 children. Of interest to us here are their older sons Nathaniel and John. Nathaniel was born 25-SEP-1739 in Nottingham West; he was appointed an Ensign in the militia in 1764. He married Olive Lund in 1767. In 1777 he volunteered for service in Stark’s expedition to Bennington, VT. Because of illness he was not able to serve and sent a substitute. He died of consumption in 1779.

John, a younger brother to Ensign Nathaniel, was born 26 Oct 1745 in Nottingham West. He became a Sergeant in the Bennington Campaign. Sergeant John married Sarah Fletcher in 1797 at the age of 52. Sarah Fletcher was born August 1778 at Westford, MA. Their oldest son, John, was born in 1799. This John was a farmer in Tyngsboro, MA and did not marry. Sarah Fletcher died in 1811 a young mother of 5. Sergeant John died in 1821.

Historic Plaque – Identifies the musket as belonging to Sergeant John and presented to Hudson by Otis in 1926. The relationship of Otis to Sergeant John as stated on the plaque is not correct. Photo courtesy of Rodgers Memorial Library

Otis Addison Merrill, a son of Mary Jane (Winn) and Benjamin Arnold Merrill, was born in Hudson in 1844. Benjamin Arnold a son of Sarah (Plumer)(Caton) and Benjamin Merrill, was born in Nottingham West in 1821. This Benjamin was a son of Olive (Lund) and Ensign Nathaniel and was born in Nottingham West in 1768. Thus, Otis was a great-great grandson of Rev. Nathaniel Merrill through Ensign Nathaniel.

At the age of 17 Otis Addison enlisted in the 7th NH Volunteers and served until the close of the Civil War. He was an architect in Lowell for many years and in 1901 moved to a farm in East Pepperell, MA.

The musket was kept in the possession of Sergeant John as long as he lived and then it passed to the care of his son John in 1821 who held it in great reverence. During the last years of his life John, the son, went to live with a nephew, Benjamin Arnold Merrill of Hudson. Before his death in 1886 John took the musket and gave it to Benjamin Arnold and asked him to pass it on to his eldest son. Prior to Benjamin's death in 1909 the musket was placed in the possession of Otis Addison with the understanding that it should be given to the Town of Hudson, NH and properly cared for in the Hills Memorial Library. This presentation was made by Otis in 1926.

Both Otis Addison and his son Rev Boynton participated in the Hudson bicentennial celebration in 1933. Otis was one of the guest speakers. Rev Boynton Merrill gave the bicentennial sermon at the Community Church. They were direct descendants of Rev. Nathaniel Merrill, the first settled minister of this town.

Sargent John, the carrier, and Otis, the donor, had a common ancestor in Rev. Merrill. Sargent John was the great grand uncle of Otis.

Musket of John Merrill as displayed in main lobby of Rodgers Library.

The ownership of “Old Busky Huldy” goes as follows: Carried by Sargent John Merrill in the American Revolution who then passed it to his son John. This John did not marry and spent the last few years of his life living with a nephew, Benjamin Arnold Merrill. Before his death in 1886, John gave the musket to Benjamin Arnold and asked that it be passed to his oldest son. Prior to his death in 1909, Benjamin Arnold placed the musket in the possession of his oldest son Otis with the understanding that it would be given to the Town of Hudson. In 1926 Otis presented the musket to the trustees of the Hills Memorial Library where it was displayed for many years above the field stone fireplace. The musket is now on display in Rodgers Memorial Library. It is in a wooden, lighted case on the right wall of the main lobby.

The above was researched and written to explain the history of “Old Busky Huldy” and to establish the lineage of Otis and Sergeant John back to Rev. Nathaniel. In so doing, we have shown that Sergeant John was the great grand uncle of Otis; not his great grandfather as previously published in the Town Report for 1926 and in ‘Town in Transition’. ★

How the Town of Hudson Came to Own the Water Utility

Prior to 1998, Consumers New Hampshire Water Company owned and operated the water system for the Town of Hudson and several other communities in the State of NH. The Town, tired of having the water rates continue to increase, proposed to the residents a plan to purchase the utility from Consumers NH Water Company.

State law RSA 38:4 authorizes Towns to establish ownership of a water system through an annual or special Town meeting. On January 13, 1998 the Town held a special Town meeting at which the acquisition of the water system from Consumers NH Water Company was approved by a greater than 2/3 majority of the voters.

The Town of Hudson purchased the whole company from Consumers NH for 34 million dollars. The Town of Hudson kept the 3 supply wells and infrastructure for Hudson and then sold the rest of the company to Pennichuck Water Works for 7 million dollars. The Town was able to lower the water rates by 10% after the purchase from Consumers, and has not increased our rates since the purchase. The State law RSA 38:26\(1\) authorizes a municipality, through its Board of Selectman, to adopt ordinances and bylaws relating to the water system or structures as required for proper maintenance and operation, which includes the authority to create a Water Utility Committee with duties prescribed by the Board of Selectman. The Water Utility Committee is now combined with the Sewer Utility and is now called the MUC or Municipal Utility Committee.

The Town hired Pennichuck Water Works to maintain the water system until 2018 when the Town went out to bid for a new company to maintain the system and Whitewater was granted the contract to maintain the water system.

The Hudson Water Utility is funded by the water users and is a not for profit utility.

All monies are used for the operation and maintenance of the water utility, any extra money is for capital improvements and water fund balance for emergencies. The bond used to purchase the Water Utility will be paid in 2028. This has been a huge success for the Town of Hudson!

The Town was able to lower the water rates by 10% after the purchase from Consumers, and has not increased our rates since the purchase.
