Presentation of Mary's Cemetery for the Nuns

Location: 182 Lowell Road

Contact Information: PMA (889-6054) Information: Closed to Public Burials

*Oldest Stone: 1951

This cemetery is the quiet little resting place for the Nuns of PMA. It is set in a back corner of the Presentation of Mary Academy grounds. Every headstone is the same size and the cemetery is organized into 3 sections with neat rows. The latest burial was in 2011.

Holy Cross Cemetery

Location: Ledge Road

Contact Information: Elaine Poulin (881-8131)

Information: Open to Burials

*Oldest Stone: Approximately 1940's

Also known to some as The Lithuanian Cemetery, this cemetery is now affiliated with the St. Patrick's Cemetery. It is located at the very end of Ledge Street; if you didn't know it was there, you'd miss it. It is a beautiful, well kept, and organized cemetery. This cemetery is a relatively newer one compared to the others in town. It is bright and open and its setting is picturesque.

Hills Farm Cemetery

Location: Derry Lane

Contact Information: George LaRocque (883-4458)

Information: Open to Burials

*Oldest stone: 1738, but an unmarked one dates back to 1730.

You can get to the cemetery from behind The Alvirne Chapel. The Chapel is where Dr. Alfred K. Hills and his 2nd wife, Ida Virginia Creutzborg Hills, are interred. Dr. Hills was a well known doctor from New York who vacationed at the Hills House in the summer time. Dr. Hills and his family donated most of the land for the Chapel, the cemetery, the Hills House, and what is now Alvirne High School to the town of Hudson.

Ford Cemetery

Location: Off of Musquash Road

Contact Information: Town Trustees: D. Alukonis (886-6000)

Information: Closed to Burials

*Oldest Stone: 1735

The Ford Cemetery is hidden from the public and if you didn't know it was there, you'd miss it! It is a small site in a quiet, peaceful wooded area. It is the resting place of Ensign John Snow who lived on Musquash Road and his house was the site of the first town meeting in Hudson in 1733. At that time Hudson was known as Nottingham, Massachusetts. All of the town's meetings were held in his home until a meeting house was built in 1734.

St. Patrick's Cemetery

Location: 102 Derry Road

Contact Information: Elaine Poulin (881-8131)

Information: Open to Burials

*Oldest Stone: 1857

The largest cemetery in town is the St. Patrick's Cemetery. This cemetery has beautiful large monument stones and flat modern stones. Since the cemetery is so large, there are paved road ways to get from one headstone to another. The St. Patrick's Cemetery is a typical modern cemetery that has expanded to its current size with room for growth.

Sunny Side Cemetery

Location: Central Street

Contact Information: Fred Fuller (889-0407)

Information: Closed to Burials

*Oldest Stone: 1851

The quaint, rustic cemetery of Sunny Side is, with paved walk ways, the final resting place of none other than Mr. Kimball Webster. His marvelous family plot is right in front of the entrance to the cemetery; you can't miss it! Unfortunately, no one else can be laid to rest in here unless you have a family plot.

Blodgett Cemetery

Location: Pelham Road

Contact Information: Town Trustees: D. Alukonis (886-6000)

Information: Closed to Burials

*Oldest Stone: 1749

To minimize damages to the cemetery the town has widened the area in front of the entrance and added a new sidewalk, too. This site was once the location of a meeting house, a church yard and a school. Mr. Asa Davis, who lived on Bush Hill Road, is buried here. Mr. Davis was very active in town government. His saddle is on display at the historic Hills House on Derry Rd.

Senter Cemetery

Location: Old Derry Road

Contact Information: Town Trustees: D. Alukonis (886-6000)

Information: Closed to Burials

*Oldest Stone: 1759

This cemetery looks ancient. The land was originally near the home of Thomas Senter. The Senter Cemetery is a small graveyard. The site itself is cheery and bright. Many of the burial sites are either unmarked or have no stones.

Westview Cemetery

Location: Burnham Road

Contact Information: Ruth Parker (882-7506)

Information: Closed to Burials
*Oldest Stone: Approximately 1849

This Cemetery was adopted in 1849 because it was supposed to be an extension of Center Cemetery. The cemetery is a beautiful cemetery with a lot of residents, with no room to spare. This cemetery is the final resting place of Dr. David O. Smith and his family, including his son Dr. Henry O. Smith.

Poor Farm Cemetery

Location: Off of Twin Meadow Road

Contact Information: Town Trustees: D. Alukonis (886-6000)

Information: Closed to Burials
*Oldest Stone: Approximately 1828

The Poor Farm Cemetery is located in a field. The public can access it between two houses. You will not see much in this cemetery for there are no marked headstones in it. But don't be fooled, there are over 62 residents in the cemetery. The Poor Farm was an actual farm where people were sent to live and work if they didn't have much. In the back of the field, after their time was up, they were laid to rest in unmarked graves.

Center Cemetery

Location: Kimball Hill Road

Contact Information: Town Trustees: D. Alukonis (886-6000)

Information: Closed to Burials

*Oldest Stone: 1778

This is a quaint cemetery which also includes the Tenney Tomb located just across the road. This is the final resting area of Dr. Paul Tenney and his wife. This small cemetery was filled long ago. The town has since cared for its upkeep.
